

JOB DESCRIPTION

Job Title: Lecturer (Teaching) in Biological Sciences	Band AC2: £37,100 to £41,732 per annum Opportunity to progress to £45,585
School: Science and the Environment
Department: Biological Sciences
Reporting directly to: Head of Department
Other Contacts Internal: Head of School, College Directors; other academic staff; administrative and technical staff in the School  External: Placement Providers; Local School staff, employers.
Main Duties*:  <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. To undertake high quality teaching and assessment across the full range of foundation, undergraduate and postgraduate courses delivered by the School of Science and the Environment.</li> <li>2. To significantly contribute to and deliver an outstanding learning experience for undergraduate and postgraduate students.</li> <li>3. To undertaking the full range of teaching duties, module leadership, Research Project supervision and other administrative duties commensurate with the post and grade.</li> <li>4. To undertake scholarly activity and / or practice- based activities collaborating with colleagues in the department or elsewhere in the University if appropriate.</li> <li>5. To participate in student recruitment activity, including outreach visits to schools and colleges, and attendance at open days and offer holder days as agreed with the Head of Department.</li> <li>6. To contribute to development work in the School of Science and the Environment, including active participation in regular course, department and school team meetings, curriculum development meetings and School / College / University committee work.</li> <li>7. To fulfil a highly effective personal academic tutor role, actively contributing to the process of monitoring and profiling students across the Department.</li> <li>8. Working with the wider School team as required by the Head of School, to ensure that the University meets its strategic objectives, particularly in respect of student recruitment, retention, and success.</li> <li>9. Maintain personal and professional development to meet the changing demands of the job; participate in appropriate training activities and encourage and support staff in their development and training.</li> </ol>

10. Take steps to ensure and enhance personal health, safety, and well-being and that of other staff and students.
11. Carry out these duties in a manner that promotes equality of opportunity and supports diversity and inclusion and takes into account the University's commitment to environmentally sustainable ways of working.

*The above does not represent an exhaustive list of duties associated with this role.

Selection methods:

Shortlisted candidates will be invited to a formal panel interview, and asked to deliver a teaching session to the following brief:

Deliver a 20-minute interactive teaching session on an aspect of Molecular Genetics suitable for Level 5 (Year 2) Biological Science undergraduate students.